

House to Omit 'Training' From Its Army Bill

Republican Leaders Agree to Draft Separate Military Service Measure, To Be Presented Next December

Will Not Be Sidetracked

Party Chiefs Would Leave Convention Free to Take Definite Stand on Subject

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Universal military training will be omitted from the House army reorganization bill and the subject of separate legislation will be taken up by the House at the next session of Congress, according to the agreement reached by the House Republican leaders and Chairman Kahn of the House Military Affairs Committee after two days of informal conferences.

The agreement is looked upon as eliminating any possibility of Republican action in the House which might be interpreted as a stand on universal training in the coming Presidential campaign, and will leave the party's attitude a possible subject for consideration in framing the platform at the national convention in June.

To Draft Separate Bill

Members of the Republican legislative steering committee, including Representative Mondell, the floor leader, and Speaker Gillett, were understood to have based their objections to action at this session largely on the political aspects, it being their recommendation that consideration be deferred until after the convention.

Under the agreement Chairman Kahn will appoint a special sub-committee friendly to universal training to draft the training bill. The measure, however, will not be presented until after a thorough investigation of the cost, economic and industrial effects of calling thousands of youths away from productive activities and kindred purposes.

Telephone in Comfort

Great variety of every conceivable style—ranging, collapsible, swinging, etc.—to meet any condition in office or home.

Extra length and special brackets to meet unusual requirements.

We specialize on brackets. Representative will call to demonstrate.

INSTALLED ON TRIAL FOR ONE WEEK

Circulars of All Styles on Request

SCOFIELD & CO.

Tel. Beckman 4411 155 Nassau St., N. Y.

Bulgaria Warns Allies on Thrace

LONDON, Feb. 24.—A Sofia dispatch of February 20 says it is semi-officially announced that the Premier has notified the Allied representatives in the Bulgarian capital that if Greece obtain western Thrace the Bulgarian government will not be responsible for the consequences.

Trustees Bound to Respect Spang Will, Wickersham Says

Even if Part Contravenes N. Y. Law "Moral and Legal" Obligation Continues, Is Trustee Opinion

Former Attorney General George W. Wickersham, one of the three trustees named by Mrs. Rosa E. Spang to carry out the provision of her will for a home for children, was again a witness before Surrogate Cohan yesterday at the trial of the contest over the will.

Henry W. Taft, counsel for the trustees and executors, who are defending the will, asked Mr. Wickersham if it was fair to assume that if any portion of the will contravened the law of New York State the trustees would be bound to carry out the wishes of Mrs. Spang with regard to the home for children.

Mr. Wickersham replied in the affirmative. The residue set aside for this purpose will amount to more than $2,000,000.

Mrs. Spang, whose daughter, Mrs. Mabel Spang Ancker, is contesting the ground that her mother was not of sound mind when she executed her will, provided that if there was any legal barrier to carrying out her charitable bequest, then the residuary estate was to go to Mr. Wickersham, Colonel Michael Friedman and Dr. Henry Taft, who were charged with fulfilling the wishes of the testatrix.

Mr. Wickersham said in reply to another question that it was his understanding of section 17 of the Decedent's Estate law that the section prohibited the leaving of more than one-half of an estate to charity where the testator has children, only when such charities are corporate bodies. This, the witness said, was not the case in the present instance.

Mr. Taft also asked as to the contingencies that would intervene before the trustees could receive any benefits under the will. Mr. Wickersham said there were many such contingencies. Another question put to Mr. Wickersham by Mr. Taft was whether in drawing the Spang will into the name of Senator Charles C. Lockwood as a beneficiary so as to disqualify Lockwood as a witness in case of a contest.

Mr. Wickersham said he had no such thought. Senator Lockwood had been asked by Mrs. Spang to act as her attorney for Mrs. Spang's will. He gave him $10,000 in liquidation of his services. In the contest he is on the side of Mrs. Spang.

Dr. Frederick Peterson, former head of the State Lunacy Commission, will give his answer to-day to a hypothetical question as to whether Mrs. Spang was rational or irrational.

Ex-Gov. Murphy Of New Jersey Dies in Florida

Civil War Veteran and Prominent Politician Had Been in Declining Health For More Than Two Years

Served in State Assembly

Was Prominent Candidate for Vice-Presidency and Sought U. S. Senatorship

Colonel Franklin Murphy, of Newark, N. J., yesterday received news of the death of his father, former Governor Franklin Murphy, at the Royal Poinciana Hotel, Palm Beach, Florida, whither he had gone on February 7 in company with an old friend, Charles F. Brooker, of Ansonia, Conn. Mr. Murphy had been in declining health for more than two years and on Wednesday last was seized with an acute abdominal trouble, for which he was operated upon on Thursday.

The New Jersey State Senate adjourned yesterday immediately after assembling, as a mark of respect for his memory.

Veteran of the Civil War, former Governor of New Jersey, and a candidate for the Vice-Presidency, Franklin Murphy was for a full generation one of the foremost citizens of New Jersey in political and business life. He came of Colonial stock, transplanted to Bergen County, N. J., in 1769, and was born in Newark on January 3, 1846, the son of William Murphy and Abby Elizabeth (Hagar) Murphy. The family moved to Newark, where Franklin was educated in the famous Newark Academy until he was sixteen, when he left Newark to enter the army.

He was mustered into the 13th New Jersey Volunteers as a private in August, 1862; was in the thick of Antietam, Gettysburg, and other battles; and after numerous battles was mustered out in June, 1865, as a first lieutenant.

Organizes Varnish Company

Immediately upon returning to civil life, though still in his teens, he organized the firm of Murphy & Co., varnish makers, in Newark. This concern had from the first a prosperous career, steadily growing until it ranked among the foremost in that business. It was incorporated in 1891 as the Murphy Varnish Company, with its founder as its president. It was which he held for nearly a quarter of a century. Its headquarters have always been in Newark, with branches in Boston, Chicago, Cleveland and other cities.

After he had established his business affairs on a secure foundation, Mr. Murphy turned his attention to politics, always as a Republican. He was a member of the Newark Common Council in 1888-1889, serving in the last year as president. In 1895 he was elected to the State Assembly, for a number of years he was a trustee of the State Reform School at Jamaica; he was one of the commissioners who laid out Essex park, a green park system; in 1897 he declined to be a candidate for the State Assembly, and in 1900 President McKinley named him as one of the American commissioners to the Paris Universal Exposition.

For many years chairman of the Republican State Committee, and from 1900 to 1918 a member of the Republican National Committee, in 1908 he was a conspicuous candidate for the Republican nomination for Vice-President, and in 1916 was a candidate for the nomination for United States Senator, being defeated by Joseph R. Frelinghuysen. He was a delegate to five national conventions.

Backed Many Reforms

Mr. Murphy was elected Governor in 1901 by a handsome majority and served three years. During his administration, and largely through his influential leadership, New Jersey got its first primary election law, child labor law, workshop ventilation law and tenement house commission. The State Sanitarium for Tuberculous Patients at Glen Gardner was founded, appropriation was made for the Industrial School for Colored Children at Bordentown, the fee system in state and county offices was abolished, a complete audit system of state expenditures was established, and banks were compelled to pay in registered deposits. After his retirement from the Governorship he continued to exert much influence as one of the "Elder Statesmen" of the state.

Mr. Murphy was married in 1868 to Miss Janet Colwell, daughter of Israel D. and Catherine (Hogland) Colwell, of Newark. She died in 1904, leaving two children, who survive. These are Colonel Franklin Murphy Jr., who succeeded Mr. Murphy as president of the Murphy Varnish Company in 1915, and Mrs. Helen Murphy Kinney, wife of William B. Kinney, of Newark. Mr. Murphy had a home in Broad Street, Newark, and a country estate in Morris County, between Morristown and Mendham. He was a member of many social and business clubs and patriotic organizations, including the New Jersey Society of the Sons of the American Revolution, of which he was at one time president; the Society of Colonial Wars, the Loyal Legion, the Society of Cincinnati, the Grand Army of the Republic, the United League, Century and the Union, the United League, Century and the Union, the United League, Century and the Union.

George Goldie, First Physical Director At Princeton, Dies

Pioneer Athletic Trainer, Who Turned Out Some of Old Nassau's Most Successful Teams, Was 78

Special Dispatch to The Tribune

PRINCETON, N. J., Feb. 24.—George Goldie, seventy-eight, the first physical director of Princeton University, died suddenly at his home here yesterday morning. He was one of the pioneer athletic trainers of this country.

Mr. Goldie was born in Montreal, Canada, and came to Princeton in 1869 to organize the athletic activities of the university, remaining at Princeton until 1895, when he became the first coach of the New York Athletic Club. He returned to Princeton in 1893, retiring from active service in 1911. As director of the old Bonair Gymnasium at Princeton he trained some of the most successful teams turned out at Old Nassau. During the years 1889 to 1895 he held the three-year and five-year all-around athletic championships of the United States and of the Canadian Club of Canada. He was the first man to use a vaulting pole, and held the two world records in the vaulting high jump and the standing broad jump.

Goldie Field, Princeton's soccer grounds, was named after him in recognition of his services in forming the Princeton football team. He was a member of the Princeton Athletic Association for two years, turning its management over to the undergraduates in 1875. He was a member of the Princeton Athletic Club, known as the Princeton Athletic Club, known as the Princeton Athletic Club, known as the Princeton Athletic Club.

Col. F. S. Benson, Gas Expert And Civil War Veteran, Dies

Colonel Frederick S. Benson, eighty-one, a pioneer gas manufacturer of Brooklyn and a veteran of the Civil War, died Monday at his summer home in Atlantic Highlands, N. J. Since last summer he had been suffering from the effects of an attack of influenza.

Colonel Benson was born in Boston and fought through the Civil War. He was formerly chief engineer of the Nassau Gas Light Company, and after his return to Brooklyn he became chief engineer of that company's eastern division until 1907, when he retired. For many years he was president of the Brooklyn Gas Light Company, and was a member of the United States Signal Corps Association, the Society of the Army of the Potomac and the Military Order of the Loyal Legion.

Rev. Brockhoff Morgan Dies; Former New York Pastor

The Rev. Brockhoff Morgan, formerly prominent in the Episcopal Church of this city, died Monday night. He was educated in France, Germany and English universities, being graduated from King's College, London, in 1862. He was also a graduate of the General Theological Seminary of New York.

Mr. Morgan's first charge was St. Stephen's Church, Melbourne, N. J. He later served at St. George's Church, New York City, and then went to St. Mark's Church, Chicago. He next served in St. Peter's Church, Port Chester, N. Y., and later came here as assistant rector of St. Mark's Church, and later became president of the Cuban Land and Leaf Tobacco Company of Cuba.

Malcolm Kerr, for twenty-five years Bureau of Street Opening, died Monday at his home, 510 Madison Street, Brooklyn. He was active in the affairs of the Episcopal Church, and was a member of the Long Island Land and Leaf Tobacco Company of Cuba.

DR. JOSE M. FERRER

Dr. José M. Ferrer, sixty-three, an authority on pneumonia, died suddenly Monday at his home here of heart disease. He was graduated from the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Columbia University in 1879 and was visiting physician to the French Hospital and St. Vincent's Hospital; a member of the Academy of Medicine and the American Medical Association, and of the University Club and the New York Athletic Club.

Union Leader Wants U. S. Ships Manned by Americans

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—William A. Westcott, president of the Masters, Mates and Pilots' Association of the Pacific Coast, told the Senate Commerce Committee to-day that the executive order permitting aliens to officer American ships until they can obtain naturalization papers should be rescinded in the best interest of the merchant marine.

As a result of this order many men, he said, have taken out citizenship papers "for convenience" only because high wages are paid by American ship owners, but with no intention of retaining citizenship after their term of service expires. He also opposed American ships being manned by foreigners.

George Goldie, First Physical Director At Princeton, Dies

Pioneer Athletic Trainer, Who Turned Out Some of Old Nassau's Most Successful Teams, Was 78

Special Dispatch to The Tribune

PRINCETON, N. J., Feb. 24.—George Goldie, seventy-eight, the first physical director of Princeton University, died suddenly at his home here yesterday morning. He was one of the pioneer athletic trainers of this country.

Mr. Goldie was born in Montreal, Canada, and came to Princeton in 1869 to organize the athletic activities of the university, remaining at Princeton until 1895, when he became the first coach of the New York Athletic Club. He returned to Princeton in 1893, retiring from active service in 1911. As director of the old Bonair Gymnasium at Princeton he trained some of the most successful teams turned out at Old Nassau. During the years 1889 to 1895 he held the three-year and five-year all-around athletic championships of the United States and of the Canadian Club of Canada. He was the first man to use a vaulting pole, and held the two world records in the vaulting high jump and the standing broad jump.

Goldie Field, Princeton's soccer grounds, was named after him in recognition of his services in forming the Princeton football team. He was a member of the Princeton Athletic Association for two years, turning its management over to the undergraduates in 1875. He was a member of the Princeton Athletic Club, known as the Princeton Athletic Club, known as the Princeton Athletic Club.

Col. F. S. Benson, Gas Expert And Civil War Veteran, Dies

Colonel Frederick S. Benson, eighty-one, a pioneer gas manufacturer of Brooklyn and a veteran of the Civil War, died Monday at his summer home in Atlantic Highlands, N. J. Since last summer he had been suffering from the effects of an attack of influenza.

Colonel Benson was born in Boston and fought through the Civil War. He was formerly chief engineer of the Nassau Gas Light Company, and after his return to Brooklyn he became chief engineer of that company's eastern division until 1907, when he retired. For many years he was president of the Brooklyn Gas Light Company, and was a member of the United States Signal Corps Association, the Society of the Army of the Potomac and the Military Order of the Loyal Legion.

Rev. Brockhoff Morgan Dies; Former New York Pastor

The Rev. Brockhoff Morgan, formerly prominent in the Episcopal Church of this city, died Monday night. He was educated in France, Germany and English universities, being graduated from King's College, London, in 1862. He was also a graduate of the General Theological Seminary of New York.

Mr. Morgan's first charge was St. Stephen's Church, Melbourne, N. J. He later served at St. George's Church, New York City, and then went to St. Mark's Church, Chicago. He next served in St. Peter's Church, Port Chester, N. Y., and later came here as assistant rector of St. Mark's Church, and later became president of the Cuban Land and Leaf Tobacco Company of Cuba.

Malcolm Kerr, for twenty-five years Bureau of Street Opening, died Monday at his home, 510 Madison Street, Brooklyn. He was active in the affairs of the Episcopal Church, and was a member of the Long Island Land and Leaf Tobacco Company of Cuba.

DR. JOSE M. FERRER

Dr. José M. Ferrer, sixty-three, an authority on pneumonia, died suddenly Monday at his home here of heart disease. He was graduated from the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Columbia University in 1879 and was visiting physician to the French Hospital and St. Vincent's Hospital; a member of the Academy of Medicine and the American Medical Association, and of the University Club and the New York Athletic Club.

Union Leader Wants U. S. Ships Manned by Americans

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—William A. Westcott, president of the Masters, Mates and Pilots' Association of the Pacific Coast, told the Senate Commerce Committee to-day that the executive order permitting aliens to officer American ships until they can obtain naturalization papers should be rescinded in the best interest of the merchant marine.

As a result of this order many men, he said, have taken out citizenship papers "for convenience" only because high wages are paid by American ship owners, but with no intention of retaining citizenship after their term of service expires. He also opposed American ships being manned by foreigners.

George Goldie, First Physical Director At Princeton, Dies

Pioneer Athletic Trainer, Who Turned Out Some of Old Nassau's Most Successful Teams, Was 78

Special Dispatch to The Tribune

PRINCETON, N. J., Feb. 24.—George Goldie, seventy-eight, the first physical director of Princeton University, died suddenly at his home here yesterday morning. He was one of the pioneer athletic trainers of this country.

Mr. Goldie was born in Montreal, Canada, and came to Princeton in 1869 to organize the athletic activities of the university, remaining at Princeton until 1895, when he became the first coach of the New York Athletic Club. He returned to Princeton in 1893, retiring from active service in 1911. As director of the old Bonair Gymnasium at Princeton he trained some of the most successful teams turned out at Old Nassau. During the years 1889 to 1895 he held the three-year and five-year all-around athletic championships of the United States and of the Canadian Club of Canada. He was the first man to use a vaulting pole, and held the two world records in the vaulting high jump and the standing broad jump.

Goldie Field, Princeton's soccer grounds, was named after him in recognition of his services in forming the Princeton football team. He was a member of the Princeton Athletic Association for two years, turning its management over to the undergraduates in 1875. He was a member of the Princeton Athletic Club, known as the Princeton Athletic Club, known as the Princeton Athletic Club.

Col. F. S. Benson, Gas Expert And Civil War Veteran, Dies

Colonel Frederick S. Benson, eighty-one, a pioneer gas manufacturer of Brooklyn and a veteran of the Civil War, died Monday at his summer home in Atlantic Highlands, N. J. Since last summer he had been suffering from the effects of an attack of influenza.

Colonel Benson was born in Boston and fought through the Civil War. He was formerly chief engineer of the Nassau Gas Light Company, and after his return to Brooklyn he became chief engineer of that company's eastern division until 1907, when he retired. For many years he was president of the Brooklyn Gas Light Company, and was a member of the United States Signal Corps Association, the Society of the Army of the Potomac and the Military Order of the Loyal Legion.

Rev. Brockhoff Morgan Dies; Former New York Pastor

The Rev. Brockhoff Morgan, formerly prominent in the Episcopal Church of this city, died Monday night. He was educated in France, Germany and English universities, being graduated from King's College, London, in 1862. He was also a graduate of the General Theological Seminary of New York.

Mr. Morgan's first charge was St. Stephen's Church, Melbourne, N. J. He later served at St. George's Church, New York City, and then went to St. Mark's Church, Chicago. He next served in St. Peter's Church, Port Chester, N. Y., and later came here as assistant rector of St. Mark's Church, and later became president of the Cuban Land and Leaf Tobacco Company of Cuba.

Malcolm Kerr, for twenty-five years Bureau of Street Opening, died Monday at his home, 510 Madison Street, Brooklyn. He was active in the affairs of the Episcopal Church, and was a member of the Long Island Land and Leaf Tobacco Company of Cuba.

DR. JOSE M. FERRER

Dr. José M. Ferrer, sixty-three, an authority on pneumonia, died suddenly Monday at his home here of heart disease. He was graduated from the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Columbia University in 1879 and was visiting physician to the French Hospital and St. Vincent's Hospital; a member of the Academy of Medicine and the American Medical Association, and of the University Club and the New York Athletic Club.

Union Leader Wants U. S. Ships Manned by Americans

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—William A. Westcott, president of the Masters, Mates and Pilots' Association of the Pacific Coast, told the Senate Commerce Committee to-day that the executive order permitting aliens to officer American ships until they can obtain naturalization papers should be rescinded in the best interest of the merchant marine.

As a result of this order many men, he said, have taken out citizenship papers "for convenience" only because high wages are paid by American ship owners, but with no intention of retaining citizenship after their term of service expires. He also opposed American ships being manned by foreigners.

BIRTHS

ENGAGEMENTS

MARRIAGES

DEATHS

ATWOOD—Caroline B., wife of Kimball A. Atwood, on February 23, at her home, 316 West 108th St. Funeral private.

BENSON—February 23, 1920, Fred S. Benson, of Brooklyn, and Bedford Ave., Brooklyn, on February 23, at 2 p. m. Interment at Greenwood Cemetery.

BERTHEL—On February 22, John N., husband of Catherine Berthel, funeral from 28 West 118th St., on February 23, at 8:30.

BOND—John, of Elmhurst, N. Y., Requiem Mass at St. Bartholomew's Roman Catholic Church, Wednesday, February 24, at 10 o'clock.

BOYLE—On February 23, 1920, Eleanor, wife of John J. Boyle, funeral from 75 4th place, Brooklyn, Thursday, at 9:50 a. m. Interment at Woodlawn Cemetery.

BRODERICK—On February 22, Albert Broderick, funeral from 1888 Arthur Ave., Bronx, at 10 a. m., February 23, at 10 o'clock. Interment at Woodlawn Cemetery.

BROWN—On February 22, 1920, Andrew Brown, funeral from 152 East 97th St., on Wednesday, at 8:30 a. m. Interment at Woodlawn Cemetery.

BROWN—On Sunday, February 22, 1920, at her residence, Hotel Somerset, 150 West 47th St., Mary Callender Brown, daughter of the late John Brown, funeral from 152 East 97th St., on Wednesday, at 8:30 a. m. Interment at Woodlawn Cemetery.

BRODERICK—On February 22, Albert Broderick, funeral from 1888 Arthur Ave., Bronx, at 10 a. m., February 23, at 10 o'clock. Interment at Woodlawn Cemetery.

BROWN—On February 22, 1920, Andrew Brown, funeral from 152 East 97th St., on Wednesday, at 8:30 a. m. Interment at Woodlawn Cemetery.

BROWN—On Sunday, February 22, 1920, at her residence, Hotel Somerset, 150 West 47th St., Mary Callender Brown, daughter of the late John Brown, funeral from 152 East 97th St., on Wednesday, at 8:30 a. m. Interment at Woodlawn Cemetery.

BRODERICK—On February 22, Albert Broderick, funeral from 1888 Arthur Ave., Bronx, at 10 a. m., February 23, at 10 o'clock. Interment at Woodlawn Cemetery.

BROWN—On February 22, 1920, Andrew Brown, funeral from 152 East 97th St., on Wednesday, at 8:30 a. m. Interment at Woodlawn Cemetery.

BROWN—On Sunday, February 22, 1920, at her residence, Hotel Somerset, 150 West 47th St., Mary Callender Brown, daughter of the late John Brown, funeral from 152 East 97th St., on Wednesday, at 8:30 a. m. Interment at Woodlawn Cemetery.

BRODERICK—On February 22, Albert Broderick, funeral from 1888 Arthur Ave., Bronx, at 10 a. m., February 23, at 10 o'clock. Interment at Woodlawn Cemetery.

BROWN—On February 22, 1920, Andrew Brown, funeral from 152 East 97th St., on Wednesday, at 8:30 a. m. Interment at Woodlawn Cemetery.

DEATHS

ENGAGEMENTS

MARRIAGES

DEATHS

ATWOOD—Caroline B., wife of Kimball A. Atwood, on February 23, at her home, 316 West 108th St. Funeral private.

BENSON—February 23, 1920, Fred S. Benson, of Brooklyn, and Bedford Ave., Brooklyn, on February 23, at 2 p. m. Interment at Greenwood Cemetery.

BERTHEL—On February 22, John N., husband of Catherine Berthel, funeral from 28 West 118th St., on February 23, at 8:30.

BOND—John, of Elmhurst, N. Y., Requiem Mass at St. Bartholomew's Roman Catholic Church, Wednesday, February 24, at 10 o'clock.

BOYLE—On February 23, 1920, Eleanor, wife of John J. Boyle, funeral from 75 4th place, Brooklyn, Thursday, at 9:50 a. m. Interment at Woodlawn Cemetery.

BRODERICK—On February 22, Albert Broderick, funeral from 1888 Arthur Ave., Bronx, at 10 a. m., February 23, at 10 o'clock. Interment at Woodlawn Cemetery.

BROWN—On February 22, 1920, Andrew Brown, funeral from 152 East 97th St., on Wednesday, at 8:30 a. m. Interment at Woodlawn Cemetery.

BROWN—On Sunday, February 22, 1920, at her residence, Hotel Somerset, 150 West 47th St., Mary Callender Brown, daughter of the late John Brown, funeral from 152 East 97th St., on Wednesday, at 8:30 a. m. Interment at Woodlawn Cemetery.

BRODERICK—On February 22, Albert Broderick, funeral from 1888 Arthur Ave., Bronx, at 10 a. m., February 23, at 10 o'clock. Interment at Woodlawn Cemetery.

BROWN—On February 22, 1920, Andrew Brown, funeral from 152 East 97th St., on Wednesday, at 8:30 a. m. Interment at Woodlawn Cemetery.

BROWN—On Sunday, February 22, 1920, at her residence, Hotel Somerset, 150 West 47th St., Mary Callender Brown, daughter of the late John Brown, funeral from 152 East 97th St., on Wednesday, at 8:30 a. m. Interment at Woodlawn Cemetery.

BRODERICK—On February 22, Albert Broderick, funeral from 1888 Arthur Ave., Bronx, at 10 a. m., February 23, at 10 o'clock. Interment at Woodlawn Cemetery.

BROWN—On February 22, 1920, Andrew Brown, funeral from 152 East 97th St., on Wednesday, at 8:30 a. m. Interment at Woodlawn Cemetery.

BROWN—On Sunday, February 22, 1920, at her residence, Hotel Somerset, 150 West 47th St., Mary Callender Brown, daughter of the late John Brown, funeral from 152 East 97th St., on Wednesday, at 8:30 a. m. Interment at Woodlawn Cemetery.

BRODERICK—On February 22, Albert Broderick, funeral from 1888 Arthur Ave., Bronx, at 10 a. m., February 23, at 10 o'clock. Interment at Woodlawn Cemetery.

BROWN—On February 22, 1920, Andrew Brown, funeral from 152 East 97th St., on Wednesday, at 8:30 a. m. Interment at Woodlawn Cemetery.